Mastering the Art of Balance

With proper research in design and material, GM Fans have grown with a design aesthetic of clean lines, correct proportions, and a less-is-more philosophy. We use crisp, precise metalwork by artisans with tremendous experience in the industry. Some of the products pass through rigorous tests at the hands of metal craftsmen and finishers before they are presented to our customers.

What is BEE?

BEE (Bureau of Energy Efficiency) rating agency affiliated to the government of India have revamped its Star Rating system for ceiling fans with reference to IS 374:2019 standard.

Traditional fans typically use a single phase induction motor and are constructed with copper / aluminium, leading to lower energy efficiency. As a result, most conventional fans consume roughly 70-80 watts of electricity and have air delivery rates of 210 to 250 m^3/min.

The Bureau of Energy Efficiency (BEE) requires manufacturers of fans to have their models tested and certified with star ratings, allowing consumers to easily determine the energy efficiency of a particular fan model.

The BEE Star Rating system rates appliances on a 5-point scale based on their energy efficiency. A higher rating indicates that the appliance uses less electricity. The scale ranges from 1 star, being the least efficient to 5 stars, being the most efficient.

New Ceiling Fan Star Rating table w.e.f. 1st January, 2026.

Sweep Size <900 mm
for blade sweep of 600 mm to 750 mm

Star Rating	Service Value
1-star	≥ 2.0 to < 2.5
2-star	≥ 2.5 to < 3.0
3-star	≥ 3.0 to < 3.5
4-star	≥ 3.5 to < 4.0
5-star	≥ 4.0

Sweep Size ≥900 mm to <1200 mm
for blade sweep of 900 mm to 1050 mm

Star Rating	Service Value
1-star	≥ 3.6 to < 4.1
2-star	≥ 4.1 to < 4.6
3-star	≥ 4.6 to < 5.1
4-star	≥ 5.1 to < 5.6
5-star	≥ 5.6

Sweep Size ≥1200 mm
for blade sweep of 1200 mm to 1500 mm

Star Rating	Service Value
1-star	≥ 4.5 to < 5.0
2-star	≥ 5.0 to < 5.5
3-star	≥ 5.5 to < 6.0
4-star	≥ 6.0 to < 6.5
5-star	≥ 6.5

Super Efficient BLDC Fans

Brushless Direct-Current (BLDC) motor uses a permanent magnet instead of the electromagnets found in traditional induction motors. In recent years, BLDC technology has been developed to reduce energy consumption in fans without significantly decreasing air delivery.

ADVANTAGES OF BLDC MOTOR FAN
★ Lower electricity consumption (65% savings) ★ Longer backup on inverters (even on Solar) ★ Improved reliability ★ Noise reduction ★ Longer lifetime

BLDC fans start with the pricing of around ₹3,000/- while ordinary fans are roughly priced around ₹1,500/-. So, in short, if you run your fans for more than 15 hours daily and per unit electricity cost exceeds ₹6/- you can expect to recover the complete cost of the fan in less than 2 years in the form of energy savings with BLDC fans.

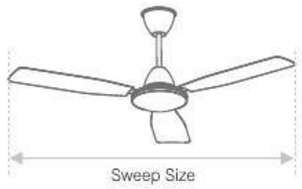
Selecting the Perfect Ceiling Fan

Visit our website www.gmmodular.com or go to any nearest GM Showroom, or a local shop dealing in GM Fans.

- Scroll through our products and their features online, or read through our catalogue.
- Have a proper understanding of your requirement and choose a GM Fan as per your need.
- Choose from the categories namely ceiling, ventilation & exhaust, pedestal, wall, table, personal and industrial fans.
- Our feature categories range from exquisite design, added extra copper, anti-dust fans, high-speed fans, BLDC motor technology, point anywhere RF remote technology, sleek IR remotes, 50% savings on electricity costs, high air delivery, wide voltage range, thermal overload protectors, low-noise fans, rustproof body, 360° oscillation to energy efficient motor and much more.
- Note that all GM Fans are functionally modern and visually appealing to suit all interiors perfectly.
- GM Fans come in various shapes, sizes, colours and designs to match your unique preferences.
- AirMate and Zephyr are our award winning pedestal fans, and you can select them without thinking twice!



Sweep size directly influences air delivery—the larger the sweep, the stronger the airflow. However, overall efficiency also depends on the surrounding area.

Speed (RPM)	Air Delivery (CMM)
315	240 ✓

Higher RPM does not mean higher airflow. Airflow/air delivery is the only point of comparison in selecting a ceiling fan.

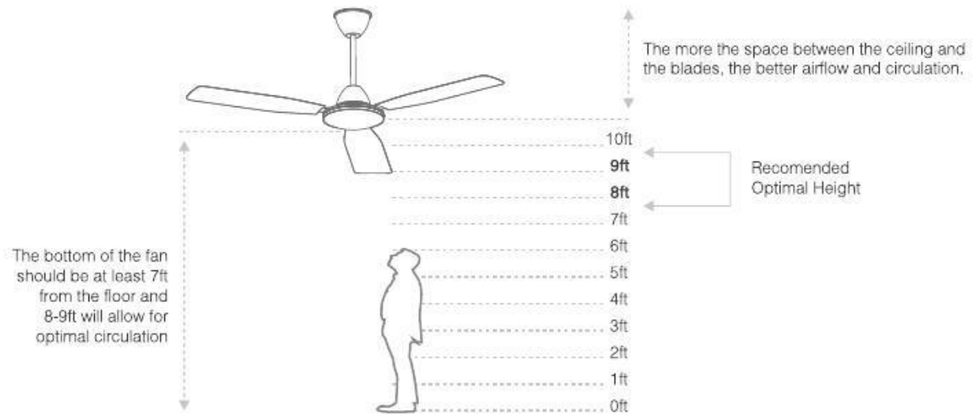
MORE STARS MORE SAVINGS

Energy Efficiency

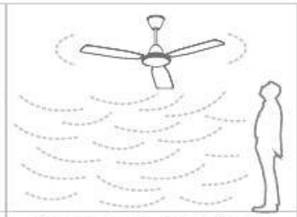
Lower electricity consumption means higher savings.
More stars mean better energy efficiency and bigger savings.

Optimal Ceiling Height

Use ceiling fans for rooms with tall ceilings, and choose personal or wall fans, for rooms with low height ceilings.



For smaller rooms opt for a low sweep size blades.



For larger rooms choose the one with higher sweep size blades.

Sweep Size	Room Size
600mm (24")	Small Shop, Cabin, Kitchen, Powder Room
750mm (30")	06 x 10ft
900mm (36")	07 x 10ft
1050mm (42")	10 x 10ft
1200mm (48")	12 x 13ft
1300mm (52")	13 x 14ft
1400mm (56")	14 x 15ft

Storage Water Heater Energy Efficiency (Star Rating)

Understanding the Star Rating of Storage Water Heaters

Meaning

A star rating for electrical appliances is an energy-efficiency grade, typically ranging from 1 to 5 stars, that indicates how much electricity an appliance consumes. The higher the star rating, the more energy-efficient the appliance, which means it uses less electricity to operate and can help you save on your utility bills.

Measurement Method

Unlike other appliances that are measured by active power consumption, water heater star ratings are determined entirely by Standing Loss. This is defined as the amount of electricity (in kWh) consumed by a fully filled, insulated water heater just to maintain the water temperature over 24 hours while connected to the power supply, with zero water drawn, at a set temperature difference (typically $\Delta T = 45°C$).

Star Rating Definition of Storage Water Heater

The energy consumption of a filled water heater after steady-state conditions have been reached, when connected to the electrical supply for 24 hours without any water being withdrawn.

- The energy consumption 'E' per 24 hour is calculated according to the following formula:

$$E = \frac{E_1 \times 24}{l_1}$$

- The mean water temperature '$\emptyset_M$' is calculated by the formula:

$$\emptyset_M = \frac{\emptyset_A + \emptyset_E}{2}$$

- '$\emptyset_A$' and '$\emptyset_E$' being calculated as indicated in image, standing Loss per 24 hour '$\emptyset_{pr}$' is calculated according to the formula:

$$Q_{pr} = \frac{45}{\emptyset_A - \emptyset_{amb}} \times E$$

Where:

- 'Q_{pr}' is expressed in kilowatt-hours (kWh) per 24 hour.

The Water Heater Star Rating table is applicable up to 31 December 2027.

Conclusion

- The energy savings between 5-star and 3-star models are relatively low.
- This is because the star rating for storage water heaters is based on passive heat loss, whereas the rating of other products is based on active power consumption.

*Energy consumed per year (kWh) is the total energy consumed to maintain the temperature of hot water over a period of 24 hour.
